THE INSPECTION OF MARS.

Professor Pickering Reports on the Harvard College Expedition's Observations.

Homestead Iron Workers Profess to be Assured of Success in Their Struggle.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Herald this morning publishes the following dispatch from Prof. Pickering, of the Harvard College astronomical expedition to Peru:—

ARAQUIPA, Peru, via Galveston, Tex., Aug. 10.—In my observation of Mars I have seen two large areas near the equator which are permanently blue. At their edges they appear light blue. The light is slightly polarized. The total size of the area is about 500,000 square miles, one half the size of the Mediterranean Sea. On June 23 a small dark spot appeared in the southern snow cap. Later this spot lengthened rapidly, and early in July it was a thousand miles long, dividing the snow in half. Sixteen thousand square miles of snow have melted within 30 days. The melted snow has apparently been transferred to the seas across land. Small dark areas, surrounded by snow, appeared on July 10th, and two days later I first saw a dark line in the fork of a Y-shaped mark in the direction of the seas. The line became more conspicuous on July 14, and on 16th a dark area about the size of Lake Erie appeared on the northern side of the stem of the "Y," which was connected with the northern sea. The next day there appeared a large dark gray area near the northern sea. This had grown much fainter by July 23rd. A new area appeared to the south of the northern sea, concealing its outline. The line in the fork of the "Y" had disappeared, but the area of the "Y" had extended. On July 24th a large dark area, apparently either a lake or sea, appeared near the melting snow, and on July 25th the southern branch of the "Y" became very narrow. The outlines of the northern sea were seen against a narrow white line stretching north from the snow. Many other changes were noted. Rapidly changing to faint whitish areas were seen green areas near the poles. They have not been seen for many weeks, but traces were recently suspected, and a bright green area was distinctly seen near the north pole last night.

Homestead Workmen Confident.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 10.—In an interview at Homestead with vice-chairman Crawford, of the Amalgamated Advisory Committee, he says: "There is no longer any doubt that we have the fight almost won. We have got the other side almost whipped, and notwithstanding the statements of Supt. Potter to the contrary, the stay of the present force of non-union men will be of very short duration. Since Saturday last fully 300 of the company's recent importations have left the mill." Supt. Potter and Secretary Lovejoy, on the other hand express themselves as confident that Carnegie will win the fight. The latter said he did not believe that President Gompers had asserted that 600,000 members of the federation of labor, employed by firms using Carnegie steel and iron, stand ready to come out on the strike if necessary, to aid the locked-out men of Homestead. Mr. Lovejoy says the Carnegie Company will pay no attention to the Amalgamated Association. As threats had been made to attack the armory of the 18th regiment of this city and seize the guns and ammunition, a guard is stationed at the armory and will be kept there until the trouble at Homestead is settled.

Hot Weather.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The warm wave which made its appearance yesterday still continues. To day the thermometer at the signal office at 12 o'clock registered 90 deg., but in several sections of the city it ranged from 95 deg. to 100 deg. There have been a number of prostrations from heat, but as yet none fatal.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Humid, sultry weather continues. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 79° with humidity 75 per cent. At 11 o'clock the street temperature was 86°, with scarcely a breath of wind and an indication of a warmer current. At 3 o'clock there were many prostrations from heat reported, two fatal. In Brooklyn eleven cases of heat prostration were reported this morning.

A Steamer on Fire.

NORWICH, Conn., Aug. 10.—The steamer Boston, of the New York and Norwich transportation line, caught fire in the Sound to-night within about two hours of New London. The captain ordered the anchor dropped. Then he and his crew joined in fighting the flames, which had broken out in the hold. For a few minutes it seemed as if they would envelop the entire vessel. Within an hour, however, the fire was put out and the steamer proceeded to New London. On her arrival there it was discovered that considerable damage had been sustained by the Boston and her cargo. The officials of the company are very reticent as to the cause and extent of the flames. They say that though many passengers were in their berths at the time the flames were discovered all were asleep and knew nothing of their danger until it had been averted.

Supposed to be in Canada.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—It is alleged that Hulett Scudder, the young real estate agent of Huntington, L.I., who disappeared a week ago last Tuesday, is a defaulter. Hulett Scudder is 20 years of age. He was engaged at one time in mercantile business in New York, but subsequently returned to Huntington and tried his hand at farming. Later on he started a hardware store, but about a year ago he sold out and went into the real estate business. The business was apparently prosperous, but it is alleged that Scudder became addicted to poker playing and betting on horses. A week ago he started for Middletown, and has not been seen since. On Thursday a telegram was sent to Middletown, but Scudder had not turned up there. Property placed in his hands has been sold and the owners have not received their money and think they never will. Dr. W. B. Gibson, with whom Scudder was intimate, has also disappeared. Some fear that Scudder has committed suicide, but the majority believe that he and Gibson are now in Canada.

Choice Morsel for the Superstitious.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The suicide of Judge James C. Normile, of the St. Louis criminal court, yesterday, will afford the superstitious a chance to speculate. He was one of three upon whom a despairing and heart broken mother is said to have called down a curse, and he is the second of the trio to die by his own hand. Judge Normile was prosecuting attorney at the trial of Walter H. Lennox-Maxwell, alias Brooks, who was convicted and executed for the murder of his friend and benefactor, Arthur C. Preller, at the Southern Hotel, St. Louis. The case was known as the trunk mystery, and was noted throughout the world. The parents of the murderer came from England, where Brooks, senior, is a school master and left no stone unturned to secure his acquittal, but to no purpose. After the execution it was reported that Mrs. Brooks called down curses upon the heads of the trial judge, the prosecutor, and lastly Governor Morehouse, who refused to commute the sentence. It is interesting now to recall the fact that Judge Van Wagoner failed of a re-election, that Governor Morehouse in a fit of delirium committed suicide less than a year ago, and now the prosecutor of the case has died by his own hands.

Almost Deserves to be Free.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Aug. 10.—August Bertram, of this city, was sentenced about seven years ago to two years in State prison. He made a most remarkable escape from the prison by climbing at the intersection of two stone walls and by nearly cutting a guard to death. Since then he has been living at Big Mills unmolested, under an assumed name. The officers were put on his track recently and last week he was brought here to the county jail. Yesterday the sheriff boarded a steamer with Bertram to take him to the State prison to serve out his unexpired terms. When out of the harbor the prisoner asked that his handcuffs be taken off and the sheriff consented. Although a mile and a half from the shore Bertram jumped overboard and swam for a long time under water. It was so near dusk he could not be seen and he was given up for a drowned man, but Bertram reached the shore and was seen by two persons who knew him.

The Canal Tolls Question.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Representives from the various lake ports of the U.S., including Duluth, Cleveland, Oswego and Ogdensburg, were in conference with the Secretary of State to-day respecting the terms in which the proclamation of the President should be issued under the joint resolution of Congress relative to the discriminating Canadian canal tolls, should it become necessary to issue the proclamation by reason of the failure of the Canadian Government to relieve American commerce from such discrimination.

The Homestead Labor Dispute.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 10.—The conference between the iron manufactors and scale committee of the amalgamated association did not resume till 10:30 this morning, the amalgamated representatives being the tardy parties. After half an hour's discussion of a motion to admit representatives of the press it was decided to exclude them and the conference went into secret session.

Fire and Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Early this morning fire destroyed the Shaw block at Lorin, Alameda county. The lower story was occupied by a drug store and the upper story was a lodging house. An explosion in the drug store blew out one side of the building. Mrs. L. D. Howe, widow, aged 70 years, is missing and is believed to have perished in the flames. Loss, about $10,000.

Smallpox in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Sporadic cases of smallpox continue to be reported in this city, and this morning two deaths occurred from the disease. Officers of the health department say there is no danger of the disease spreading, as the sanitary arrangements made for the removal of patients are such as to render infection almost impossible.

Frightened to Death.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 10.—The hot weather continues to-day; the thermometer at noon being 92 degrees. A heavy thunder storm passed over the city early this morning, during which Mrs. M. Domes, 54 years old, was so frightened by the lightning that she died in convulsions.

A Murderer's Escape.

Ontario Farmers Killed by Lightning—The Obnoxious American Flag.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 10.—It is ascertained that the pleasure steamer run down by the steamer Ruenberg, outside of Helsingfors on Monday, was the Ajax. After the collision discipline was lost, and the crew made a rush for the boats. There was no time to cast them loose, however, and in a very few minutes after the collision the Ajax sank and the Ruenberg went aground. Those on board the Ruenberg threw life buoys, boxes and everything portable overboard to the people struggling in the water, but despite this ninety persons are supposed to have been lost, and thirty-five bodies have already been recovered.

Killed by Lightning.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 10.—During the thunder storm yesterday afternoon, two farmers, named Simon Moyer and Allan Eby, living near Freeport, were struck by lightning and instantly killed. They were ploughing in a field, and when the storm came on they took shelter under a tree and there met their death.

Aug. 10.—Dingwall McKay, aged 70, a farmer living in East Zorra, was struck by lightning in his garden yesterday and killed.

The Harrison Campaign.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The World says:—It has been about decided to bring President Harrison to the city some time this month and let him hold a reception similar to one Garfield held in 1880. The idea of bringing the President to this city for a general political conference is understood to have originated with Whitelaw Reid. Mr. Reid, of course, borrowed it from the Garfield campaign. It worked well in Garfield's case, and Mr. Harrison's friends believe it will be equally effective.

A U. S. Consul's Crime.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 10.—Henry B. Ryder, U. S. consul here, is under arrest charged with misappropriating the sum of 200,000 kroniters. He has confessed himself guilty of embezzlement and forgery. In his confession Ryder says he produced false receipts and induced his wife to make a false statement, when he was arraigned in court. Mrs. Ryder is also under arrest, but will probably be released to-day.

A Fool's Loyalty.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 10.—The stars and stripes, which alongside the Union Jack, was unfurled to the breeze by a party of campers from Youngstown, Ohio, at Port Stanley, was hauled down during the silent watches of the night by some ultra loyal Port Stanleyites and torn into shreds.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Mess Accounts Short—Street Railways in America.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—Military circles were considerably excited yesterday when the rumor became current that the money in the treasury of the Queen's Own Rifles regimental mess was considerably short of what the books called for. It was stated that the shortage amounted to $2000. Several officers, both of the Queen's Own and the Royal Grenadiers, were seen respecting the matter, but all either refused to talk or said they knew nothing of the affair.

At the annual convention of the Edison Electrical Association, held here yesterday, M. J. Sullivan read a paper in which he showed that there are to-day less than four hundred street railroads in America, using electricity, representing an investment of $400,000,000. Several committees reported, which brought out an interesting discussion on practical subjects, including the importance of high insulation in interior of buildings.

RESIGNED HIS POSITION

To Come to Victoria—Trades Procession—Gun Club Match.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—H. E. Connon, C.P.R. agent here, has resigned. He has been appointed agent for the province of the Northern Pacific line of Pacific steamships, with headquarters at Victoria, and will assume his new duties on the 1st September.

Great preparations are making for labor day to-morrow. The trades procession will be the feature of the celebration.

The steamer Mascotte arrived yesterday afternoon, with 700 tons of freight for shipment over the C.P.R.

The members of the Vancouver Gun Club have completed arrangements for holding the first annual match on the 20th inst. Prizes to the amount of $90 will be given. There will be three matches, two of which will be for members of the club in good standing, and the third open to the public.

The order fixing the date of the sitting of the Exchequer Court of Canada at Vancouver for Tuesday, the 6th day of September next has been rescinded, and such sittings have been postponed, by order, until Tuesday, the 27th day of that month.

Among the passengers on the City of Nanaimo yesterday were Messrs. McPhillips, barrister, Crawford, agent, O. P. St. John and Mr. Stickles. The last named was discharged on the 5th as cured from the isolation hospital, who, on arrival at Nanaimo had to submit to a thorough examination. Dr. Praeger informed the passengers that no one would be allowed to land except on undergoing a 14 days' quarantine. Some bales of hay on the fore deck were also refused landing. When the City of Nanaimo arrived back she was met by the health officials, who made a thorough examination, after which all the passengers were allowed to go about their business.

The "Autonomy" Anarchists.

The anarchist group to which Alexander Berkman, the would-be assassin of H. C. Frick, Bauer, Peukert and Kolb belong differs considerably from the larger order of which Herr Most is the leader. The autonomists, as they are called, hold the same general views as other anarchists, but they go farther. They do not admit that any one has a right to live who does not hold their own radical views, and they do not hesitate to take human life for any cause which suits their purpose. Joseph Peukert, formerly of Vienna, is the founder of this sect, which includes men of such a character that they have been again and again repudiated by the more discreet followers of Most. Before Peukert found it necessary to leave Vienna to save his neck he promulgated the theory that it was perfectly justifiable to kill any rich man if his riches might thereby be appropriated to the cause of anarchy.

Shortly after the formation of the order, a Vienna banker was murdered and his safes robbed. The crime was attributed to Peukert and he fled. He went to London and later came to America. Here he edits the sheet called Der Anarchist. When he arrived two years ago, after being repudiated by the anarchists of Germany and England, he was denounced by Most. He then formed a group of radicals in New York city. They termed themselves "The Pioneers of Liberty."

SIR GEORGE DIBBS.

Disappointed at the Treatment Received at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—Sir George Dibbs, Premier of New South Wales, who left here at midnight for Vancouver is greatly annoyed over the shabby treatment given him while in Ottawa. He came on business with the Government, regarding the Pacific cable and trade relations, yet none of the Ministers called on him until a little before the time he was leaving, when Carling dropped in, but he knew nothing about the matter. His visit was consequently a failure.

A raft, on which were four children, was upset at Lanark. Three were rescued and resuscitated, but the fourth, the nine-year-old son of Thomas Wilson, jr., is dead. The body was recovered.

Dr. E. Legere, M.P. for Kent, died Monday after a long illness. He was only 26. He was first returned to Parliament at a by-election in July, 1890, and was a Conservative.

It is expected that the winding up of the defunct Central Bank's affairs will be completed by September 1. All but $10,000 of the last dividend has been paid, for which the addresses of the claimants are not know.

Engineer Palmer, who is in charge of the work of surveying and boring the Northumberland straits to ascertain whether a tunnel, connecting Prince Edward Island with the mainland is practicable, says he has no doubt the tunnel can be safely constructed.

The Street Railway Company has opened a car factory in Toronto, employing a hundred men, and have contracts for the construction of all the trucks for the Montreal and Winnipeg companies. It is expected the works will become permanent and will increase in their operations.

Sir John Abbott is at his summer residence in St. Anne, near Montreal, where he is now considering the factum prepared in London, England, by Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and the counsel for the Dominion, embodying the case for Canada in the Behring Sea arbitration. Mr. Tupper returned from London Monday bringing this document with him for the approval of the government.

The first division on the Lieutenant-Governor's speech since the Northwest was given responsible government took place in the assembly at Regina on Monday. Mr. Oliver, of Edmonton, moved to expunge the Governor's approving reference to the new license system. Only three out of the twenty-six members voted for Oliver's amendment. This, no doubt, is the beginning of a permanent opposition, as conducted in other legislative bodies.

The infant child of W. J. Holliday, of Calgary, died of smallpox at the quarantine station. Mr. Belwar, of Shepard, is not expected to live. These are the only cases now, and only three people are in quarantine. Mayor Lucas goes to Regina to submit a statement of expenses to the Legislature. They will amount to about $5000. The Mounted Police are patrolling the town, and 12 men came from Regina on Sunday to relieve them. They are detailed for this duty. It is not likely there will be another disturbance.

Almost every day for the past two weeks half a dozen or more Chinamen have arrived in Toronto from the west. This has had the effect of greatly increasing the Chinese population of the city. As a rule the Celestials reach there with the intention of not having long to stay, and have already made arrangements with some of their fellow countrymen whereby they can continue their journey to some part of the States. The only reason advanced for the large influx is that Chinamen are being scared out of the western cities by smallpox and are fleeing to avoid the ravages of that dread disease.

At the monthly meeting of the directors of the C. P. R. in Montreal, Mr. Davin, M.P., introduced a deputation, consisting of J. W. Smith, of the Regina Board of Trade, and Alderman Marsh, Regina, who complained that the extension of the Soo line to Pasqua, Assiniboia, instead of to Regina, was a violation of a promise given by Lord Mount Stephen, in 1887, that all lines from the southwest should centre at Regina. The company would not yield to the request of the delegates to divert the line to Regina, because the new route will save twenty miles, but gave a written promise that two other new lines coming from the east should end there. This satisfied the delegates, who left for home.

Sir George Dibbs, Premier of New South Wales, arrived at Ottawa Tuesday to confer with Premier Abbott on the subject of improved telegraphic and steamship communication with Canada and Australia. Sir George was disappointed at not finding the Premier at Ottawa, but had a discussion with the Hon. Messrs. Chapleau and Carling. He strongly favors the construction of a cable between Victoria and the Antipodes. His government was prepared to grant financial assistance. He believed that the other Australian governments will do the same. He will communicate with Premier Abbott on his return home. He thinks that Australian Federation will ultimately take place, but that Sir Henry Parke's project is visionary. He holds that Federation is only possible on a basis of a common tariff. Sir George Dibbs left Ottawa for Victoria on Tuesday night.

ABOUT HOME RULE.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Hon. Mr. Gladstone, in the course of his speech on the Queen's address, denied that the Government had succeeded in satisfying Ireland. The Land Bill of 1887, he said, was doubtless of benefit, but the Government's Irish rule on the whole, had been a hateful failure. Liberals believed as strongly as any one in a firm administration of the law but they also believed that the law ought to harmonize with the opinions of the people. Therefore, said Mr. Gladstone, he trusted the coercion act would not remain any longer than necessary on the statute books. Mr. Gladstone intimated that a November session was impossible, but he assured his followers that Home Rule for Ireland still had the first place on the programme. Pledges to release the prisoners held on charges of having been implicated in the dynamite outrages could only be given by responsible ministers. He trusted that the evicted tenants would be reinstated in the autumn by a voluntary settlement between them and their landlords on the principles of the Liberal proposals. Home Rule, said Mr. Gladstone, it was pretty well known, was based on the maintenance of the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament. Ireland would have full and effective control of her own concerns, (cheers). When a Home Rule bill should be presented to the House of Lords, they would have before them the most important question ever submitted to their Chamber, and a question of the deepest interest to themselves. If the Lords should reject the bill, the Government would not be compelled to resign. He would decline to say more on that subject at present. Other Irish legislation would not be neglected. Mr. Gladstone said, in conclusion, that the Liberal and Irish policy was based on a true union of heart and sentiment, which was the truest basis of strength at home, and of strength and good fame throughout the civilized world. Deafening cheers greeted the close of Mr. Gladstone's remarks, in which the Irish Nationalists heartily joined.

Right Hon. A. J. Balfour taunted Mr. Gladstone with describing his Irish policy as moral when it was really and essentially immoral. England was a partner of Ireland in the Union, and certainly had a right to a hearing in regard to the proposed dissolution of the Union. The incoming Government must describe the meaning of the phrase used by Mr. Gladstone about administering the law in Ireland in sympathy with the opinions of the community, whether or not it would mean the restitution in defiance of the rights of property of three thousand evicted tenants. The incoming ministry might possess a majority, but they would be the slaves of their Irish supporters. Therefore they, the beaten party (here the speaker was interrupted by loud Liberal and Irish cheers), looked forward hopefully to the future (loud and defiant Tory and Liberal-Unionist cheers). The victorious party, Mr. Balfour continued, looked to the future with perplexity and dismay. He (Mr. Balfour) believed that the British electors had returned many Liberals under a delusion and a misapprehension. They intended that their candidate should deal with domestic legislation, and when they had found out their mistake they would turn again to the party able and willing to frame laws worthy of the genuine destinies of the great Empire. Mr. Balfour's speech was followed by prolonged cheering on the part of the Government supporters.

Thomas Power O'Connor, Irish Nationalist M.P. for the Scotland division of Liverpool, retorted that the Conservatives had obtained power in 1886 by the help of the Nationalist vote, and had not scrupled then to take office with Irish assistance. Mr. O'Connor also accused the Unionists of corrupt practices during the recent general election. He cited several instances in which the law against such practices had been violated.

T. W. Russell, Liberal Unionist for South Tyrone, replied to Mr. O'Connor. It was absurd, he said, for members elected by the foulest priestly intimidation to criticize the conduct of the English electors. Home Rule meant the degradation of the citizens of Ulster, the destruction of religious liberty, the placing of civil rights at the disposal of the world's most unscrupulous politicians, and the placing of commerce at the mercy of the men who made Tipperary a howling wilderness.

Several Unionists spoke against Home Rule, and C. O. Darling, Conservative for Deptford, delivered an address full of praise for Lord Salisbury.

Timothy Harrington, Parnellite for Dublin Harbor, said that something in the tone of Gladstone's speech had caused uneasiness among the Irish members and he warned the Liberals that the Home Rule question must be attended to without delay. It was not a matter of trimming or temporizing, but for immediate and unequivocal action.

Colonel Sanderson, Conservative, for North Armagh, and a prominent mouthpiece of the men of Ulster, spoke luridly as to the results which would follow the inauguration of Home Rule. He contended that the Irish party was controlled by Archbishop Walsh. If the House of Lords should fail to reject Home Rule, he said, the men of Ulster would crumble the plan into dust.

Mr. Redmond, Parnellite, for East Clare, replied to Colonel Sanderson, and ridiculed the latter's remarks as to ecclesiastical domination over Irish members. An Irish Parliament would, he said, be as free from priestly interference and was the House of Commons.

The debate was then adjourned.

Question of Compensation.

A few days ago Dr. McGuigan received word to burn the house and belongings of the Gibson family, who were stricken with smallpox at Howe Sound. THE ATTACK ON THE CITY.

Judging from the report of the interview which appeared in the Colonist this morning, Premier Davie realizes that he went too far in his autocratic course when he undertook to coerce the city council into paying irregular and illegal accounts, and to prohibit it from seeking relief from his tyrannical edict in the courts. Perhaps the extent of his cheek has begun to appal even the Premier himself, with the consequent dawning of the idea on his mind that to other people it must appear truly colossal. So, by way of averting public anger, he pleads that his arbitrary and outrageous suspension of the city's municipal charter is only for a short time. That reminds us very much of the story of a lady at the Court of France, who transgressed the laws of virtue and then pleaded in her own behalf that the tangible evidence of her guilt was "such a very little one." It is certainly very kind of Czar Davie to inform the citizens that their municipal rights will be restored when it so pleases the said Czar. It is also reassuring to learn that it is only in times of smallpox that Czar Davie will undertake to show himself superior to the law and the legislature and impose his will on the City Council as regards the expenditure of the citizens' money. The tone of fear that runs through the Colonist interview leads us to infer that the Premier is not likely to repeat the mistake which he has committed on this occasion. Moreover, he realizes that he will not have many opportunities for the exercise of his dictatorial propensities, inasmuch as the people of the province generally distrust him equally with the people of Victoria. Czarism may be good in its place, but it is hardly in place in a country like Canada. Premier Davie would have done himself some service if he had refrained from trampling on the city's rights and thus avoided the necessity of explaining that it is "only a little one."

The journalistic mouthpieces of the Government of course come to the Premier's assistance and call the TIMES hard names because it condemned his action. Whereat the TIMES is not at all confounded. The mouthpieces are earning their pay, like the Hessian mercenaries, and are free to do so in whatever manner their own or their master's taste dictates. The Colonist affects to regard this paper as an "ignorant demagogue" and a "miserable Russian," which is a very great compliment—coming from the Colonist. For the rest, the old organ's effort largely consists in keeping its blind eye towards the Premier's offence. It must be remembered in charity that the Colonist is under the painful necessity of atoning for a brief period of rebellion against Davie the Attorney-General by displaying the most abject sycophancy towards Davie the Premier. Thus it happens that if the Premier-Czar takes snuff the poor Colonist is obliged to sneeze. If the autocrat affirms that he need not respect either the law or Victoria's rights, the humbled organ must hold up its hand in assent. When it is a question of Davie versus Victoria, the Colonist must side with Davie.

The infantile News is somewhat more vicious than its brother; it shows its teeth in a manner worthy of the Attorney General himself and snarls so heartily as to testify to its extreme pleasure in the job. By reproducing TIMES' criticisms on the municipal authorities at the commencement of the outbreak it attempts to justify the outrage perpetrated by the Premier yesterday. That is the attempt of a fool. The TIMES felt it to be its duty to stir up the local authorities at the start, but when they showed themselves fully alive to the dangers of the situation and ready to cope with them, we naturally resented as base and infamous the effort of the Attorney-General to belittle them and make political capital for himself out of the visitation. The TIMES has kept a consistent course throughout, and is still as free to censure any lack of effort on the part of the civic authorities as it is to condemn the overbearing and intolerable insolence of the would-be provincial dictator.

But the News goes further and asserts that the TIMES is now upholding the city against the attacks of its assailant because of "advertising pap" received from the city. Therein is heard the voice of a knave. The News' statement is a barefaced and impudent lie, as the author of it well knew. It so happens that the city advertising comes to the TIMES this month as a consequence of the new alternative arrangement decided on by the Council. The News' turn comes, we believe, next month. It is more than likely that the Government organ's atrabilious attack on the Council and the TIMES is due to the accident which kept this month's "advertising pap" out of its own hungry clutches. The ridiculous and mean insinuation put forth by the News could hardly have emanated from anyone less malicious and vindictive than the Attorney-General himself. He need not flatter himself that by such tactics he can either silence the TIMES or persuade the public that his recent course is at all justifiable. If the people want an autocrat Mr. Davie may be sure that they will not select one of his stamp.

ONE-SIDED CZARISM.

Before writing the article in the News on "Smallpox and Czarism" the Attorney-General should have perused that other article in the same paper, "Trouble in Store." In the latter the statement is made that "Dr. Davie, the provincial medical health officer, complains of the exceedingly loose way in which the provincial health regulations are observed in Vancouver, and he has gone over to that city to-day to look into the matter and insist that they shall be better observed." It is curious that Dr. Davie should have made the discovery relating to Vancouver only after a month's contemplation and after repeated spurrings from the press. Regulations which he insisted on so "imperatively" in Victoria have been ignored in Vancouver. The provincial health officer was well aware of this, and so was the Premier; yet these two "jacks-in-office" (borrowing a Colonist epithet) have allowed the irregularity to go on in Vancouver, while they decapitated Dr. Milne and persecuted the Victoria municipal authorities, on the false plea that they were neglecting their duty. Dr. Davie has known for some time that cases were kept in separate houses at Moodyville and Hastings instead of being removed to a hospital. He has also known that "suspects" in Vancouver were not placed in any station corresponding with Ross Bay. He has known, in fact, that some such "suspects" were not quarantined at all, and that hotels from which cases were removed were neither shut up nor treated to a general fumigation. Dr. Milne and the Victoria Board of Health were guilty of no such neglect as this, after once they had taken the outbreak thoroughly in hand. But the provincial "jacks-in-office" thought fit to violate municipal rights and put this city to needless expense because their regulations were not carried out to the last letter, while they have allowed actual looseness to continue in Vancouver for a month or so. Dr. Milne objected to removing all suspects indiscriminately to Ross Bay, especially those who had been already quarantined for some time. For this he was harshly dismissed. Dr. Davie immediately afterwards admitted that Dr. Milne was right by allowing some of those suspects to remain where they were and permitting others to go out at once on the streets. Dr. Milne wished to discriminate between suspects lately exposed to contagion and others whose term of 14 days was well over. Dr. Davie's method of discrimination was to bundle the poor and uninfluential off to Ross Bay, while he allowed others, whom he very likely did not care to offend, to remain in their houses. And all the while he knew that there was no suspect station in Vancouver, and that even quarantine was ignored there. All of which shows that the Davie brothers believe "drastic laws" and "czarism" are especially designed for those opposed to them politically.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Gladstone's speech in the debate on the address has given the public a general idea of the Liberal programme, though he did not accept the Tory invitation to explain his Home Rule scheme in detail. The Liberal leader, of course, is at liberty to choose his own time for a full explanation, notwithstanding the eagerness of his opponents to secure one right away. In his speech yesterday he seems to have gone into the subject no further than to set forth the two main features of his coming Home Rule measure—the relegation of local affairs to the care of a local Irish Legislature and the maintenance of the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament. This much has been made known before, so the public has yet to await new information on the subject, and the Tories must possess their souls in patience as well as the rest of the people. It is curious to note the Tory insistence on the necessity for Mr. Gladstone making known his scheme in all its details at the earliest moment, while at the same time the Tory leaders still cling to office and so do their best to delay the announcement they profess to be so anxious to hear. It is well within Mr. Gladstone's rights and privileges to withhold his announcement until he is installed in the office to which he has been called by the vote of the people; therefore Lord Salisbury and his colleagues by indecently refusing to vacate when they knew the verdict had gone against them, and thus delaying the accession of the Liberals, are responsible for the blocking of progress. Mr. Balfour had the assurance to repeat in Parliament the contention that part of the Liberal majority was gained by a fraudulent pretence that the Liberals would legislate in the interests of the working classes as well as on the Home Rule question. His querulous remarks on this topic hardly harmonize with the contention so strongly put forth by the Tories, that the Liberals are bound to bring on their Home Rule measure at once and to appeal immediately to the country if it is rejected by the House of Lords. If the Liberals have pledged themselves to secure useful legislation in other directions they cannot consistently stake the existence of their Government on the action of the Lords in respect of Home Rule. Undoubtedly the Tories regard with alarm, and correctly enough, the plan of the Liberals to proceed with other legislation in the event of the Lords rejecting the Home Rule bill. There are many questions which need attention, many measures to be enacted which will commend themselves to English voters and strengthen the Liberals in a new appeal to the country. Mr. Gladstone in his speech yesterday more than hinted that this is the line which he and his followers have finally decided to adopt, for their own benefit and for the confusion of their opponents. That this line of policy causes perturbation in the Tory ranks need not be wondered at. That it should be specially obnoxious to the Chamberlain wing is quite natural, since that wing is in fact committed to the principles to be embodied in the prospective legislation. The Liberal-Unionists see that they will be forced either to support Gladstone or repudiate past professions, hence their exceeding aversion to the Gladstonian programme.

"OUR SEWERS."

TO THE EDITOR:—As we shall soon be called upon to vote a sum for the extension of our sewers I think it would aid us in arriving at an opinion as to whether we should vote for or against the by-law if we had the advantage of reading in your columns the full report of the experts, who examined the fractured pipes as I feel sure this would dispel many doubts. I should also like to know what preventative steps are to be taken to insure perfect immunity from a recurrence of similar accidents in future when our sewers are full and in use.

Last evening a bartender and a saloon-keeper who have an old grudge against one another, started to settle the matter on Government street by exchanging blows. The trouble will now be ventilated in the police court.

The Quarantine.

Captain Clements, of the steamer North Pacific, said last evening that he expected that the quarantine would be raised to-day or to-morrow. Those Americans that have been quarantined here do not think that Dr. Baldwin has acted too soon.

Chemical Works.

Mr. Hall, who last year was in communication with the Board of Trade with a view of establishing chemical works in the city, has, it is understood, decided to build the works. He has formed a partnership with Mr. Moor of Manchester, and the works will be built in the fall.

To Choose a Site.

The managers and ladies' committee of the P. O. Home met at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of receiving the site committee's report. Before deciding on a site they will visit the most desirable ones. It is expected that they will arrive at a decision to-night.

Folded Their Tents.

The lacrosse boys who were in camp above the Gorge yesterday evening folded up their tents and returned to the city. They were loth to leave the spot, and even the bear cried when the boat was headed for town. It was thought the camp might interfere with practices, hence its abandonment.

The Quarantine Regulations.

At the regular meeting of the council of the British Columbia Board of Trade held this morning there was a general discussion on the quarantine regulations. Some correspondence between the board and the department was read, but it was thought advisable not to publish it until the matter is settled. Another meeting will be held in about two weeks.

False Reports.

There is some individual in Victoria who is not at all particular about what reports he sends to outside papers. Last evening a letter was received in the city from Tacoma. The writer said he had heard that Victoria had been burned to the ground. It is understood that a report to the effect that half the city was in flames was sent over the wire just as the tramway fire started on Sunday morning.

Unprovoked Assault.

A man known around town as "Jimmy," while under the influence of liquor, made an attack on G. W. Bowman this morning, dealing him several severe blows with his fists and feet before anyone capable of preventing him interfered. The police are looking for "Jimmy" and it is probable he will be required at the police court to-morrow morning. The man formerly worked for Mr. Bowman.

Eight Medals Wanted.

The Victoria athletes who won medals in the Vancouver sports competitions on July 2nd complain that they have not yet received the trophies of their victories. The following is the list: C. Blain, two medals—for 1st in 220 yard race and 2nd in 100 yard race; D. Tudhope, two medals—for 1st in long jump and 2nd in half-mile race; H. Dalby, two medals—for 1st in half-mile and second in one mile; W. Friend, one medal—for 1st in one mile; J. McLeod, one medal—for 2nd in green bicycle race.

He Was Indiscreet.

Robert W. H. Straite, who was for a season a victim of the Ross Bay suspect station, got himself into further trouble yesterday. On complaint of Joseph Shaw, gatekeeper at the Ross Bay suspect station, he was tried yesterday afternoon on a charge of using grossly insulting language. Court was held at the "station" by Magistrate Macrae, the witnesses giving their testimony over the fence. It was shown that Straite drove out to the station yesterday and shouted to the suspects to force their way out, as there was no law to compel them to stay there. He also said he would bring out a boat and a sixshooter to help them make their escape, and concluded by calling the doctor in charge of the station some very uncomplimentary and insulting names. Straite was fined $20, or one month's imprisonment. The fine has not been paid as yet. It is probable that a serious charge of a different nature will be made against Straite.

A meeting of the directors of the tramway company will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to consider the plans for the new power house proposed by Mr. Teague. The building will be "rushed right through." The expert who is to adjudicate upon the insurance claims, will arrive from Portland to-night.

Temporary Arrangements.

Mr. F. H. Osgood, who is connected with the lighting department of the N. E. T. & L. Company, whose plant was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, arrived from the Sound last evening. Before coming he ordered the necessary dynamos and other machinery, which will be here in a few days. He has now about perfected arrangements with a city factory for power and expects to have the lights burning as brightly as ever in a few days. The company will go to work immediately to replace their own plant.

Flames in the Woods.

Enormous quantities of valuable timber have been destroyed by fire within the past few days between Port Angeles and Port Crescent. A party of picnickers who kindled a fire at the foot of a gigantic cedar some miles west of Port Angeles, are blamed for the damage. The spectacle afforded by the flaming forests when the fire was at its height was sublime. The law respecting the kindling of fires in the forest and the preservation of standing timber is much more severe in its penalties and much more spiritedly carried out in Washington State than the same piece of legislation in British Columbia.

Don't Want to Pay Licenses.

The cases of Frederick Heath and Arthur Poole, convicted before Police Magistrate Macrae of infractions of the revenue by-law by soliciting orders for lithographic work and law books respectively, without first obtaining a license, came up on appeal to-day in the County Court before Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie, Chief Justice. For Mr. Poole, Mr. Gregory submitted that the by-law and parts of the act under which the convictions were secured were ultra vires and could not be enforced; and for Mr. Heath it was contended that the sale of 500 cards was a wholesale transaction and not covered by the by-law. The Chief Justice sustained the conviction in the Poole case and reserved judgment in the Heath case.

Muscular Debt Collecting.

There was a very rough-and-tumble fight with bare fists, best-and-best rules this forenoon on Broad street. The pugilists were an old man who was sober and a young man who was drunk. The dispute arose over a question of wages, claimed by the younger man. The young man evidently thought it was a clear case under the Mechanics' Lien Act, for he leaned very mechanically on the old man's nose with his large bony fist, and also after the old man fell down, when the young fellow sat on his chest and played the devil's tattoo on the aged gentleman's frontispiece generally. The result of this energetic treatment was a couple of rainbow eyes, a bleeding nose and sundry bumps, cuts and contusions. The combatants were separated with great difficulty. There is a probability that the person who committed the assault and battery will have a chance to spend some of it, if he ever gets it, for fines.

He Could Stand It.

At the present rate of progress all the suspects at Ross Bay station will be out of "quod" before Saturday. One of the suspects who was released a few days ago, when spoken to about Dr. Hasell's "indignant denial" of the whiskey smuggling charges, smiled grimly, drew the back of his hand across his mouth and said, "I'm afraid the worthy doctor was imitating the morning papers to a large extent when he said that. I mean jumping at conclusions, and in the dark, too. Whiskey, well I should say. Almost wish I was back again. Of course Dr. Hasell did his best to stop it after he took hold, but love and lovers of the genuine cruiskeen lawn laugh at locksmiths. I could suffer under the cruellest kind of suspicion and be suspected worse than a blooming pickpocket if the same kind of toddy was provided to sustain my injured pride that we got "on the side" while languishing in the suspectory." And the bold bad suspect winked his weather eye and steered for the front door of another suspect station on Government street, where they put a stick in the lemonade when the hint is discreetly given.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

PEDESTRIANISM.

FAIR HEEL-AND-TOE WALKING.

To the Editor:—In last evening's issue, "Amateur Athlete," in the course of an excellent letter upon the propriety of having an all-round amateur championship for the province, gives a series of events suitable for the contest of skill and strength. The time and distances given as standard are fairly correct, except that assigned to the one half mile heel-and-toe walk, five minutes. To be sure, in this western country walking is almost a lost art; the climate is against such a severe exercise as race walking, and the general gait of the people when travelling on foot, in the city or the country, bears out what I say. As a former aspirant for pedestrian honors I may speak with some authority on the subject, and I would like to say that in the east or the old country, Scotland and Ireland especially, the man who cannot do one mile, on a country road, with all his clothes on, and with no particular training, in ten minutes, would not be considered a good walker, certainly not a fast one. The average amateur time for the mile walk on the cinder path nowadays is 6 min. 50 sec. I was not considered "in it" at all in the eastern clubs to which I belonged, although I could make the mile in 7 minutes 40 seconds on the cinder path. Now, putting the average time for the mile walk at the easy figure of eight minutes, surely a man who has any pretensions to heel-and-toe walking could cover the half-mile in something under four minutes. It is to be understood, of course, that the conditions are all proper, the man trained, the path firm and the weather fair. I was very glad to see "Amateur Athlete's" encouraging communication and trust that an athletic revival will be experienced in Victoria next spring. Limber Hamstrings.

THE CINDER PATH.

"Tommy" Watson, Victoria's crack mile runner, goes over to Vancouver to-morrow to engage in the Labor Day celebration sports. He will enter in the quarter mile, half mile, and one mile races, and no doubt will give a good account of himself, as he has been training for these events.

THE OAR.

A PROMISING CREW.

Rather a creditable piece of work was done by one of the James Bay four-oared crews last night. The crew was Mr. W. Ward's, and they were out for the first time in practice for the regatta on the 20th. Messrs. Ward, Langley, Beaven and Munroe compose the crew. When returning from their spin up the Arm time was taken upon them from the railway bridge to the boat house and they succeeded, without much apparent effort, in covering the distance in the "crack time" of three minutes. The distance is over half a mile, and for men rowing together for the first time, it is well worthy of note.

THE RIFLE.

The Westminster riflemen arrived in the city last evening, and in company with the local crack shots left for Goldstream this morning, where the annual shoot takes place. The range was put in order yesterday by Captain Fletcher and a squad from C battery, and this morning everything was ready for the competition. The early morning was spent in an extra series.

BASEBALL.

THE BROKEN PIPES.

Report of Mr. Mohun on the Breaking of Sewerage Pipes.

A number of people interested in sewerage construction having expressed a desire to read the report of the engineer on the breakage of the new sewer pipes, it is published in full:

City Hall, Victoria, July 30, 1892.

The Sewerage Commissioners:—

Gentlemen—With reference to the collapse of a portion of the 20 inch main on Johnson street, it is generally assumed that such a result must be due to one of two causes, viz: either an inferior quality of pipe or failure to properly tamp the back filling.

It is believed that in the present instance the damage done is not due to either, but to a danger hitherto unrecognized in sewer construction. The pipes are of superior quality and have been frequently tested to a pressure of over 200 lbs. to the lineal inch without breaking.

On the first discovery of the broken pipes, I was inclined to attribute the damage to a failure to properly tamp the back filling. Some of the circumstances, however, cannot be accounted for by this theory, and I now believe that this is not the cause of failure, and that such an assumption is, in all probability, an injustice both to the pipe layer and to the assistant inspector who superintended the work. The matter has been anxiously considered by Mr. G. A. Keefer, Mr. Wilmot and myself from various points of view, and from all the information we can obtain we are disposed to adopt Mr. Harrison's suggestion, viz.: that the damage has been caused by the compression of the air in the pipes due to blasting. On this theory all the incidents connected with the failure may be explained.

At the foot of Johnson street, the sewer while blasting was going on above was sealed. A charge being fired in the rock tunnel above would be somewhat similar to the firing of a gun of which the muzzle is closely stopped. The air suddenly compressed exerted an enormous pressure, and even if it did not completely shatter a pipe, the pressure of the earth above would soon complete the destruction of a damaged length.

In confirmation of this view, where an air vent was provided on a straight line, the pipes on both sides of it escaped without damage; where the sewer made an abrupt turn, the force of the explosion having a tendency to travel in a straight line, at the point of deflection the pipes were shattered.

In an earth tunnel, where there was about three feet of filling above the pipe, it was broken in a similar manner; this could not have been pressure. In the rock tunnel, where there is a free circulation above the pipes, no damage appears to have been done.

On two or three occasions while blasting has been going on, ventilator covers have been found turned completely over; unless wilfully removed by some person, this could only happen were a force applied to the underside, as from an explosion. Further, the firing in town is distinctly heard at Clover Point, the sound travelling down the sewer.

It is, of course, impossible to prove the cause of damage to any particular pipe; but the eccentric manner in which it is well known the force of an explosion sometimes passes without damaging a nearer object, while completely destroying another at a greater distance, does not militate against the theory suggested, with the precautions taken, and with the constant personal supervision exercised during the construction of the sewer, it appears almost impossible to attribute the failure to bad material or careless work.

I should add that Messrs. Keefer and Wilmot are quite in accord with the opinion herein expressed.

Edward Mohun,
Chief Engineer.

We, the undersigned, are of the opinion that the explanation given by Mr. Mohun in the foregoing report as to the cause of breakage in the 20-inch pipes is the correct one.

BRIEF LOCALS.

One Day's Doings in City and Province Briefly Related.

The public library will re-open on Monday.

Fine fishing tackle at Fox's, 78 Government street.

Two patients were discharged from the quarantine station yesterday.

Try the Boston cream toast, at the Dairy Kitchen. *

A large number of the citizens who reside in the outskirts are developing excellent pedestrian qualities since the cars stopped running.

Trounce alley is being ornamented and fortified with a new row of stout iron posts, placed more closely together than the former ones, and at each end of the popular "short cut."

Complaints are heard from persons having occasion to pass buildings under erection on Government and other streets, of the careless manner in which lime and brick chips are flung around. Specimens of these materials when they lodge in the eyes produce about an equal amount of pain and profanity.

A Curious Tale of Indian Etiquette.

A curious incident was brought to notice in connection with the recent marriage of the heir apparent of the Jodhpore State. It appears that, according to the custom in vogue among native chiefs, a kharita of invitation to the royal wedding was ordered to be sent to the Maharaja of Gwalior. The official who wrote the kharita did not know the mode of addressing the ruling chief of Scindia, and therefore referred to all records of the State, in which the late grandfather of the present chief was mentioned. The official copied the address word for word and sent it off to Gwalior by a daroga. On the kharita being presented to the Maharaja of Gwalior, he refused to open it, saying he could not open a kharita addressed to his grandfather, who died before the mutiny, and asked the man to take it to his samad, three miles out of Gwalior. None of the representatives of the Gwalior State attended the wedding on this account.—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE VARIOUS VIEWS.

TO THE EDITOR.—I have watched with considerable interest the discussion now going on in your columns with reference to the smallpox epidemic, and the steps taken to meet the emergency. The views expressed are valuable, but it is a pity they are so one-sided, and so much apparently a matter of personal opinion. On one hand we have Dr. Davie dogmatically asserting that vaccination is the only safeguard, but it is to be noticed that he lays a great deal more weight on isolation than it deserves were vaccination even half as efficacious as he claims. On the other hand we have your correspondents asserting other things with equal confidence, but they do not give their authorities any more than Dr. Davie does. In last night's paper, for instance, "Pioneer" writes what all must agree is a very sensible letter, concluding with a quotation. But the purport of that quotation is only of value if the original is of value, and it would be interesting to know whence it is taken. This is an unbelieving age, calling loudly for proof, and when the church even is required to justify or give up the miracles how shall the doctors, amateur or professional, escape question if they content themselves with assertions unsupported by proofs. BANCUS.

THE VIEW STREET NUISANCE.

TO THE EDITOR.—When will our city fathers take steps to abate the public nuisance existing on View street? About a month ago a strong petition was sent to the council against the existence of brothels in the residential part of that street, yet no action seems to have been taken; and those vile creatures are allowed to carry on their damnable traffic, undisturbed and unmolested. Is not this a slur on the fair fame of our moral city? Could not our council enact, and at once, laws relegating those daughters of sin to some unfrequented part of the town, where at least they would not be constantly parading themselves under the eyes of the respectable portion of our population? Is it not a disgrace to Victoria that those dens of vice and corruption should be allowed to exist at the very door of one of our most beautiful church edifices? I have observed that on Sundays these women are at their doors and windows, dressed sometimes in very scanty attire, and talking very loud, in order, no doubt, to attract the attention of those who go to worship in the Roman Catholic church. If our city fathers, the guardians of the morals of Victoria, had any regard for the respect due to our Christian sons and daughters, should they not at once see to it that our young people can attend divine service without being compelled to gaze upon those creatures whose very countenance speaks of corruption and immorality? There is also on View street a school attended by a large number of children. Just opposite the school and right alongside of it on the west of the street are these dwelling houses of prostitutes. This is another reason why the council should, without delay, remove this public nuisance. How can the teachers of this school inculcate the highest principles of morality when their pupils are brought in almost direct contact with those who parade their immorality under their very eyes? Should not our children be protected against such a spectacle? Let the council be doing and acting, if they have really at heart the welfare of our city. Let our Christian men and women be protected by the mighty arm of the law. If corruption and immorality cannot be banished altogether from our midst, let it be compelled at least to hide itself in some obscure corner of the city, where it will not be a menace to our respectable citizens. If our aldermen have any regard for the honor due to our pure women and to our innocent children, let them remove those brothels from the doors of our churches and of our schools. Thus acting they will merit the approval of every one who has any notion of decency and morality. But if they tarry any longer they will justly deserve the censure of an indignant community that protests, but protests in vain, against the existence of such an abominable nuisance. MORALITY.

SEWERAGE.

TO THE EDITOR:—The extension of the sewerage system is at present exciting considerable discussion among the aldermen and citizens of Victoria generally. There is, to my mind, one aspect of the situation which should be made the subject of very serious consideration—that is the influence of the effluvia emanating from the surface sewers on the public health.

The rapid spreading of the smallpox was, in my opinion, to a great extent traceable to the present very defective sewerage system. Conversation with old residents elicits the fact that in years gone by a deep ravine ran between Pandora avenue and Johnson street. The requirements of a modern city caused this to be filled up. With regard to the unwholesome character of filled in ground that great authority on sanitary science, E. A. Parkes, says:—"Every made soil should be well drained, so that air and water may pass through it. The virulence of a large proportion of epidemics in cities can be traced to the sewage matter lodged in filled in ground. The constitutions of persons breathing the miasmatic odors which exhale from such a soil must be very receptive of any zymotic influence."

It follows from the above as a natural consequence that if any epidemic started in the city, the hotbed would be around the filled-in ground between Pandora avenue and Johnson street. This was the case with the present smallpox. The same was the case with the smallpox scourge of several years back. There was the centre. There were the greatest number of cases; from there it radiated in all directions. Such will more than probably be the case with other epidemics which will no doubt afflict the city, as long as the present system of allowing waste matter to accumulate on the surface of the ground continues. In the hot summer weather surface drains are of course more injurious than in the winter.

Can any modern city of the size and importance of Victoria be cited where the sewerage system is so primitive?

As to the expense, it is a matter of economy to complete the system. How much has Victoria lost by the present epidemic? How much will it lose by the other epidemics that are sure to follow, if the present plan is not very soon abolished?

Victoria is by natural conformation, soil and climate, one of the healthiest cities in the world. Nature has done all it can for the town. Art has as yet done but little. The site is splendid from a sanitary standpoint. A plateau sufficiently elevated to give a good fall to sea-level. A sandy, porous soil, of such a consistency as to dry very quickly. To all this is due the immunity from disease which has characterized Victoria in the past, and which could very easily be made to characterize it in the future.

R. E. SPROULE, M. D.

UNDER THE SWAY OF THE CÆSARS.

TO THE EDITOR:—The high-handed fashion in which the Provincial Government deals with those who are unfortunate enough to have business with it, is well imitated by the lesser lights of that petty autocracy. The same disregard of justice, reason and right which the public have seen displayed by the upper powers of the little czar and his brethren obtains in the lower rounds. The following may serve to show that Superintendent Hussey, of the provincial police, is thoroughly imbued with the Provincial Government idea of rule. When he required inspectors to see that the provisions of the Sunday observance by-law for Victoria district were carried out I was sworn in as a special constable on the 9th of April last, and next morning, Sunday, I, accompanied by John Hall, another special, went to Esquimalt. We called at the Ship Inn, the Globe, and Coach and Horses taverns, then went back to Esquimalt again and called at the Esquimalt hotel, John Doran's place, the Half Way house and the Victoria Gardens. That was the day's work for the 10th. Hall and myself received $5 each for expenses. On the 11th we were also paid $2.50 each for expenses. Then Superintendent Hussey had the cool assurance to offer me $10 for 21 days' work. I should have received $52.50. Whether the worthy superintendent was animated by a laudable desire to save the government a few dollars to help build the new government offices, or whether it was out of sheer "ugliness" I cannot say. As an example of cold marble impertinence it exceeds anything that has come under my notice in some years. Again, in place of one month's notice, which was my just due, I received an exceedingly curt notification from the Minister of Justice of West Kootenay, to consider myself discharged the following day. From the dealings I have had with the Provincial Government I should say to the poor man who is compelled to work for them—expect no justice; have no high flown opinions about your rights and liberty; learn early that there is no appeal to Davie Cæsar from the jack-in-office who immediately oversees you; but swallow your scruples, hold your tongue, and drop into yourself and be a slave. SLICK AH SHICK

Caught After an Exciting Chase Which Lasted Five Days.

Ah Shick was up before Magistrate Macrae this morning, charged with the larceny of $20 from John Lomox. The complainant told with many gesticulations that he on Friday last paid Shick 50 cents for doing some work for him. He then placed on his verandah a tin yeast powder can, which he used as a cash box and which held $20, and then went to his hen house to see if the Chinaman had done the work he had paid him for. A minute afterwards he returned when both Slick and the money were gone. The can was lying near his gate empty. For five days he hunted for Shick diligently but did not see him till yesterday. The prisoner immediately turned and "ran like a deer" when he saw him, but after being chased for a mile was caught by "another young man." The case was remanded till to morrow to secure the young man as a witness.

Two drunks paid the usual penalty, and James Beaney, Thos. Gamblin, W. A. Elliott and Thos. Parcell were each taxed $5 for infractions of the thistle by-law.

BETTER THAN BEFORE.

The Tramway Company Will Put in a Finer Plant in a Fire Proof Building.

In conversation with one of the directors of the tramway company this afternoon a TIMES reporter was informed that the company not only intend to start up again in four weeks but with a much superior plant than the one spoiled on Sunday morning. "We have telegraphed east," said the gentleman referred to, "for the most modern and improved appliances in our business and they are probably now on the way. We expect Mr. Teague will have the plans of the new fireproof shed ready for our inspection to-morrow and that matter settled, the building will be pushed to completion with the utmost dispatch. Yes, it will be absolutely fireproof; iron, stone, brick and in all probability on asbestos roof. It will cost we calculate $30,000 or thereabouts. Under a temporary roof we shall at once commence work on the setting up of the new machinery. Mr. Brown, an expert from Messrs. Goedie & McCullough, of Galt, Ont., will superintend the putting in of the Wheelock engines. The big Wheelock was scarcely damaged at all by the fire, stood it marvellously well. The insurance question has been adjudged and we have obtained permission to clear the ground. It is not likely that an expert from San Francisco will come here to adjudicate upon the loss. That idea has been, I understand, abandoned. The Albion Iron Works staff is not very busy at present and they will be able to turn pretty nearly their full attention to the fitting of the engines. There is no truth in the report that we intend to run some of the open cars temporarily with horses. The idea is absurd. It would in the first place cost too much, and again there is the question of legality. However, you can say that we intend to do our very best to have the whole system in full swing inside of a month. Yes, as you say, it is almost a second edition of the smallpox "scare," but we intend to let no grass grow under our feet. It was a hard blow, but we are not going to let it knock us out. The service, when we do commence operations again, will be in every way better than it was before the fire.

PAUL FOR PRINCIPAL.

The School Trustees Appoint a Successor to Mr. Burns.

The board of school trustees, sitting in committee of the whole yesterday evening, by unanimous vote appointed E. P. Paul, M. A., principal of the Victoria High School, vice Mr. Burns resigned. Mr. Paul is now teaching in Esquimalt, and was formerly principal of the Nanaimo schools.

REGULAR BUSINESS.

A regular sitting of the board was also held, there being present Chairman Chas. Hayward, Trustees Richards, Lovell, McConnan, Morrow, McKay and Saunders.

The action of the chairman in continuing the insurance of $2000 on the Rock Bay school, was on motion of Trustee Saunders confirmed.

A couple of applications for positions as teachers were laid over. A communication was also received from the superintendent of education giving the board power to extend the vacation to September 5; also a communication from Miss E. G. Lawson declining a position as monitor. A letter from J. C. Bonos asking for the appointment of janitor of James Bay school was laid over.

A number of bills were referred to the finance committee for payment.

The chairman directed the attention of the board to the inadequate sanitary arrangements of the schools—the James Bay school in particular—and it was decided to call for tenders for providing suitable sanitary accommodation.

Trustees Lovell pointed out that if the $300,000 sewerage by-law were not passed it would be impossible to make sewage connections with the schools.

On motion of Trustee Richards it was decided to ask the principals of the several schools to submit to the board the results of the recent examinations.

On motion of Trustee Richards, Miss Merton was promoted to be first monitor at the Hillside school; Miss Smith was appointed first monitor at the Spring Ridge school, and Miss Dowler was appointed first moritor at the Hillside school.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents. *

Progressive Commerce.

Spot cash is the order of the day. We want money to carry on our large and increasing business. To get this money we have reduced prices for the vast stock we hold to an alarming extent. The immense reductions made would form a good capital for a small firm. Thirty to fifty per cent. discount on $150,000 worth of stock is one of the boldest things attempted yet in the province. Yet we are doing it for these reasons: We are buying enormously, paying promptly for our goods, wish to increase our connection and build up the biggest trade in B. C. Our sale commenced on Monday, and is forging ahead. Ladies, you want a bedroom, parlor, or drawing room suite, or one of our lovely sideboards, or a comfortable, artistic chair, or a bright and pretty carpet, or many things in crockery, glassware, lamps and cutlery. Sehl-Hastie-Erskine, 66 and 68 Government street, will sell them to you at far less than auction prices. *

Dec. 30.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

THERE is undoubtedly a great deal of absolutely worthless work done by the Corporation. A large quantity of wages is paid to workmen whose work gives upon lasting benefit to the city. Dwellers upon South road, Spring Ridge, point out that the trenches dug in that road a few months ago are filled up again, and that this was most likely to occur, as the mould or sod taken from the trenches was heaped up within a few inches from the trench and allowed to stay there for many weeks. Carts and buggies passing by naturally pushed the mould back again, and the civic wages are therefore lost. In parts like this, if it be wise at all to have open drains—a very questionable proceeding—it is certainly economic to lay wooden drains. Simple trenches dug in sandy soil is a waste of public money, and judging by the number of by-laws asking the taxpayers for more money just now, such waste cannot be too strongly deprecated.

I am asked continually by various citizens if it would not be possible to call a public meeting to discuss the questions at issue between the provincial and the civic governments. Hitherto it has seemed to those leading citizens who usually take part in meetings that the state of public health renders all promiscuous gatherings inadvisable, but the growing discontent at the Premier-autocrat's proceedings, his Orders-in-Council, etc., make such a public meeting imperative. If Senator McInnes, as an impartial representative citizen, would take the initiative, I am quite sure his action would be well sustained. Theodore Davie, Esq., believe me, the time for despotic government is passed. There is a power higher than the throne, a might mightier than an Attorney-General. Outraged public opinion has been very patient but there is a limit to even that. Retreat even now from your untenable position and past offences may be condoned, or it will be written against your government, as against Belshazzar, "God hath numbered thy kingdom and finished it." At any rate a public meeting, where grievances may be ventilated, is the prerogative of the British people, and should be invoked at this juncture. QUIZ.

FOR RAISING VESSELS.

The Idea of Employing Iron Pontoons Originated in Canada.

DETROIT, Aug. 2.—The successful raising of the Canadian steamer City of Owen Sound from the bottom of Georgian Bay, where the water is 110 feet deep, has caused great interest among marine men. The City of Owen Sound was lost in October, 1887, with a cargo of grain. When it was found that the wreck was in over 100 feet of water it was given up as a total loss. Such it was with all the ordinary appliances of wrecking, but since that time iron pontoons have been invented by William Leslie, of Kingston. These pontoons are forty-six feet in length and ten feet in diameter, being round with cigar shaped ends. They are divided into three compartments by water-tight bulkheads, and are built of heavy steel plates strengthened with longitudinal and cross braces. To prevent undue rolling, the pontoons are built with bilge keels, and have a well at each end through which chains are brought up and effectively held by coggles. The lifting capacity of each pontoon is 100 tons. The first trial of the pontoons was with the railway transfer steamer Armstrong, which was sunk in very deep water at Brockville. It was found that the pontoons then used were too large, and that they would snap the chains under the vessels to lift them. After the Armstrong had been raised off the bottom twice, only to go down again by the breaking of the chains, the pontoons were reduced one-half in size. This obviated the difficulty. The second experiment was with the City of Owen Sound, which proved eminently successful. The plan of iron pontoons is not a new one, as it was advanced by Captain J. S. Dunham, of Chicago, many years ago. It was not worked out, however, until Mr. Leslie put the theories into practice. Wrecking appliances throughout the world have not kept pace with shipbuilding, and nearly the same appliances are used now as half a century ago. The old-fashioned way of sinking casks into sunken boats and then pumping out the water is still in general use. It is both expensive and uncertain. The use of wooden pontoons, by which the boats are raised a few feet and floated into shallower water, is exceedingly tedious. What has been needed was some device which could be quickly and inexpensively attached to sunken boats and then operated with certainty as to the result. Dozens of good lake boats lie within 100 feet of the surface on the lakes, and if the new invention is the success claimed for it, all these craft will be afloat again. Among these wrecks is the large steel steamer "Brunswick," which lies in about ninety feet of water off Dunkirk, N.Y. The wooden steamer "Smith Moore" is in less than a hundred feet of water near Marquette. These are but a few of the valuable boats which can now be raised. The underwriters are the owners of most of these wrecks, but they, doubtless, will be willing to sell out cheaply, particularly as the boats have been given up for loss these many years.

CARIBOO ELECTION.

MRS. TYLER TO DR. DAVIE.

TO THE EDITOR:—I took a drive today round by Ross Bay and saw the unfortunate people called "suspects." If Dr. Davie knew more about smallpox than he does, he would know that you can't take the disease until it is on the turn—that is the time you take it. The idea of shutting people up because they were in the house at the time one person took the disease is a shame. I took my first lesson when seven years old—that is 53 years ago. We thought as little of it as measles and never called in a doctor. When we found out it was smallpox we gave the sick one a little whiskey and as much sulphur as could be placed on a 10 cent piece. We put them to bed and covered them up with blankets till the pox came out. We fed them on good gruel and kept them warm—never allowed them to get the least cold. When a patient gets a chill there is great danger. I should advise Dr. Davie to go to the first large city where smallpox is epidemic: then he would get a good insight into the disease. If he had the experience that I have, he would act very much different from what he is doing. Since the smallpox broke out I many times wonder what Dr. Davie would do if he were in the midst of cholera, or the worst kind of fevers, where hundreds were dying and none left to lock the doors. He would go crazy. I have been through it all. I never learned hospital nursing, but I learned nursing among my neighbors. I lived in Glasgow, and I had a brother 14 years old, who came to see me. He was seven days in Glasgow when the smallpox broke out on him. I had 90 miles to go in a steamer before I got him home. There was not a case of smallpox for years in the place. The doctors said he overheated his blood by racing. There were six in the family in the house and not one of them took it and there was not a case in the place for many years after. When smallpox broke out in Greenock it was very bad, but people took no notice of it. There was a training ship there, and the captain of marines was very freightened that he would catch the disease. He would not go ashore nor talk to any one who came on board. But he took the smallpox and was very bad. Nothing but fright made him take it. There was no suspect station and no wholesale burning of clothes. Everyone fumigated the house and washed their clothes. Reading science is all very well, but experience is better. I have nursed my invalid husband for over four years and if Dr. Davie or a policeman comes to vaccinate him they will only do it over my dead body.

IT COMMANDS THANKS AND PRAISE

When a baby's life is saved, the loving mother is always ready to acknowledge the value of the agent that defeated sickness and summer diseases.

Already, this summer, scores of letters have been received from happy and thankful mothers, testifying strongly in favor of Lactated Food, and declaring that it saved their babies from sickness and death.

No other Food in Canada has ever received such strong words of approval. Lactated Food is doing a grand work for babies and young children who were languishing under inferior foods and poor milk. It has built up the little ones in flesh, bone and muscle, and caused them to be bright and happy. Babies love Lactated Food, and when once fed to them, will relish no other.
